

QUARTERHORSE RACE TRACK 'DEAD'

Permit Is Returned To Board

Delays, Opponents Cited as Reasons For 'Surrender'

Desert Turf Club President Hank Gogerty today tolled the death knell for quarter horse racing in the resort area, ending five years of planning and heated conflict.

Gogerty told The Desert Sun that the club permanently "has relinquished all rights" to conduct quarter horse racing in Palm Springs.

THE NOW DEFUNCT Turf Club, which had originally planned to open quarter horse racing this fall, surrendered rights granted in an order issued on July 19, 1954.

"We are permanently out of business," Gogerty said. "There won't be any racing here unless, or until, someone else wants to proceed — and they'll have to start from scratch."

The club officially relinquished its racing rights in a letter addressed to the California Horse Racing Board by Kenneth E. Lynch, Turf Club attorney.

IN THE LETTER, Lynch also stated that "the club also relinquishes and waives any and all rights it may have to apply for future racing dates."

Gogerty blamed the Turf Club demise on "endless delays" over a span of five years, since the inception of the club and initial plans for the first resort area horse race track.

"If we had had our approvals in the first three years, we would have had no problem," Gogerty declared.

GOGERTY SAID the club was unable to meet deadline for establishing racing dates.

"The present economic situation and unnecessary delays, which were beyond our control, prevented us from meeting this deadline," Gogerty said.

Races were set for Oct. 17, but, Gogerty noted, "we couldn't get ourselves in shape in time to meet the date."

SINCE ITS INCEPTION, the Desert Turf Club has defended its proposed track through lengthy court battles and hearings before the County Planning Commission and the Board of Supervisors.

"It should be made clear that the present Board of Supervisors did approve zoning for the club by a majority vote and that they have been very cooperative in its plan to develop racing for Palm Springs," Gogerty said.

Site for the proposed track was off Rio del Sol Road, near Highway 111.

GOGERTY SAID THAT "a good deal of time and expense" had been devoted to creation of the club.

"But all of the investors have been reimbursed 100 per cent for their subscriptions," he pointed out.

The letter to the horse racing board noted that club officials were "proud to state that although a tremendous amount of money had been expended on behalf of the Desert Turf Club, not one cent has been spent by any investor."

THE ENTIRE SUM has been paid by the directors," the letter stated.

Clarifying the reasons for relinquishing club's racing rights, the letter noted:

"The directors, in all fairness to themselves, must state that the expensive, prohibitive and uncalled for delays, which have finally resulted in this withdrawal of its rights to racing dates in the Palm Springs area were deliberately caused by persons and organizations which, for reasons which need not be cited herein, made it impossible for the Desert Turf Club to proceed in a reasonable time with its plans to give California its finest quarter horse racing track."

Ike Observes Fourth with Nine

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (UPI) — President Eisenhower started a quiet Fourth of July observance today with an early round of golf.

ALASKA, HAWAII, RUSSIA CLAIMS OKINAWA TOO

TOKYO (UPI) — Radio Moscow, in a broadcast beamed to Japanese listeners Thursday night, accused the United States of planning to make Okinawa its 50th state.

MRS. JOHN WILLIAMS, 610 Via Monte Vista, looks on with interest at a spider web which was stretched from the eaves of their home to the flagstone patio, and in which the spiders had managed to capture a small snake (see bottom of photo). The snake was hanging about one inch from the patio floor and had the web circled around its neck. From all apparent activities of the spiders, they must have strengthened the web after the snake had become trapped in it. The snake, an Arizona Sand variety, had been killed by the spiders and a few hours after the picture was taken, many baby spiders were crawling over the carcass. According to Dr. Clarence Smith of the Desert Museum, the spiders are known as wolf spiders, and although are poisonous to their prey, will not harm human beings. (Desert Sun Photo).

Cuban Rebels Said Ready To Release Kidnap Victims

HAVANA, Cuba (UPI) — The U. S. naval base at Guantanamo was reported today to have reached an answer to the mysterious snag which stopped the rescue of 54 Americans and Canadians held by the Cuban rebels.

It was believed the 45 men, including 30 U. S. Marines and sailors, might start walking out of the rebel-held hills today. A U. S. Navy airlift by helicopter halted abruptly Thursday, apparently for fear the craft would give away rebel positions to the Cuban army.

THURSDAY REBEL leader Fidel Castro instructed his brother

Raul to release the prisoners at once. Rebel sources in Santiago said Raul wishes to apologize to the families and sweethearts of the kidnap victims for the inconvenience and anguish he caused.

U. S. CONSUL Park F. Wollam flew here Thursday with Antonio Chamberlain of Coral Gables, Fla., one of the five men released by the rebels Wednesday night, and conferred at length with Ambassador Earl E. T. Smith.

Wollam, who negotiated the initial release, sped back to Guantanamo Thursday night and it was believed rescue operations would resume at once.

Congress, AFL-CIO

Hoffa's Transportation Alliance to Be Opposed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Members of Congress and AFL-CIO officials dropped hints today they would try to scuttle a huge alliance of transportation workers proposed by Teamsters President James R. Hoffa.

Hoffa and the leaders of two East Coast maritime unions announced plans Thursday to form a "conference" and invite some 50 unions with an estimated 3,500,000 members to join.

THE FACT THAT one of Hoffa's allies is Joe Curran, AFL-CIO vice president and member of its ethics-policing committee as well as head of the National Maritime Union, drew angry comments at AFL-CIO headquarters.

The other co-signer of the unity pact besides Hoffa and Curran was Capt. William Bradley of the International Longshoremen's Association (ILA).

AFL-CIO SOURCES said the fact that both the teamsters and ILA were kicked out of labor federations on corruption charges should have made Curran keep his distance. Now he's in an "untenable" position, they say, since he was one of those recommending teamster ouster for racketeering reasons.

Sen. Carl T. Curtis (R-Neb.), a member of the rackets investigating committee, said he would insist on a congressional probe if the pact tended to create a "great monopoly" in transport.

SEN. KARL E. MUNDT (R-S.D.), another rackets committee member, said "this step toward monopolistic unionism" makes it more urgent for the House to add amendments to the Senate-passed labor reform bill to prevent "union tyranny in this field."

He said amendments requiring secret ballots for union officers would "bring this to a quick end, because American union men are not about to vote themselves under Communist Harry Bridges or Jimmy Hoffa."

HOFFA, OUTLINING the plans for an August meeting to establish the conference, said it would seek to end bitter bickering over job rights and organizing among seamen's and dock workers' unions.

AFL-CIO sources pictured the move as one more step by Hoffa in an effort to establish himself as a "bread-and-butter" union leader.

They said he was trying "desperately" to erase his public image as a front-man for racketeers in the Teamsters Union.

AFL-CIO VICE President Joseph A. Beirne, head of the Communications Workers, said if transportation unions want an organization to solve their problems it should be set up within the federation.

There was no immediate reaction from the railroad brotherhoods, airline pilots and other transport unions who would be invited.

An AFL-CIO spokesman said there would be no policy guidance right away from George Meany, now in Europe at a labor gathering. But Meany will bring up the issue at an AFL-CIO executive council meeting starting Aug. 18.

UN Team Reports No 'Infiltration'

Syrian Soldiers Not in Evidence, Check Reveals

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — The United Nations observation group in Lebanon reported today it had found little evidence of Syrian troops entering Lebanon to fight in the simmering Lebanese insurrection. Lebanon has charged "massive infiltration."

The first fact-finding report of the three-man team, comprising Galo Plaza of Ecuador, Maj. Gen. Odd Bull of Norway and Rajeshwar Doyal of India, detailed operations of the 100-man field force in the first two weeks of its existence.

IT REACHED NO definite conclusions but reported the investigation of some rebel strongholds and cases of "Syrians" fighting with the insurgents and reported by the Lebanese authorities.

In the area of Chouf, the stronghold of rebel leader Kamal Jumblatt, observers saw "large groupings amounting to several hundred armed men," the report said.

"The arms seen consisted mostly of a varied assortment of rifles of British, French and Italian makes. . . Mines seen near the Baalbek area were of British and French makes. . . It has not been possible to establish from where these arms were acquired. . ."

"NOR WAS IT possible to establish if any of the armed men observed had infiltrated from outside; there is little doubt, however, that the vast majority was in any case composed of Lebanese."

The group reported that approximately one company of uniformed Syrian soldiers was observed on a road leading from Deir El Aachayer into Syria, "in an area where the location of the border is under dispute and is not known to the local inhabitants."

Death Toll On Highways Moves Up

Safety Council Predicts 410 To Be Victims

By United Press International — Holiday-bound motorists crowded the nation's highways today, and the traffic death count for the Fourth of July weekend mounted steadily.

The National Safety Council, which had estimated 410 persons would die in traffic accidents by midnight Sunday, said this figure would fall short of the mark if the present death rate continued.

A UNITED PRESS International count at 11:30 a. m. p.d.t. showed 71 persons killed in traffic accidents since 6 p.m. Thursday. Three drownings and three deaths from a variety of accidents brought the total holiday death count to 77.

Florida, Iowa and Kentucky each recorded five traffic deaths, and North Carolina, Ohio and Virginia each four.

The Safety Council's estimate of 410 traffic fatalities topped the previous three-day Independence Day holiday record set in 1955, when 391 were recorded.

THE ALL - TIME JULY 4th death mark occurred in the four-day 1950 holiday weekend, when 501 persons were killed on the roads.

The council said its forecast of 410 deaths meant 80 more persons would die this weekend than during a normal non-holiday three-day weekend period.

Police across the nation mobilized full efforts in an attempt to at least slow down the highway death rate. Virtually all available patrolmen were called out and warnings against speed, drinking drivers and carelessness came from almost every possible source.

A ST. LOUIS, MO., radio station teamed with a dairy and said it would give a free ice cream bar to everyone in the state if Missouri's highways stayed death free this weekend.

As yet, no Missouri fatality had been recorded.

A radio station at Winston-Salem, N.C., said it would pay funeral costs for Forsyth County's first holiday traffic death. The station said it hoped this would "be a contest with no winners."

The Weather Bureau stuck to its holiday forecast of muggy, warm weather for most of the nation.

SIX CHILDREN WAIT TODAY FOR PARENTS' RETURN

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Six small children waited today for their parents to come and get them after they were abandoned with a note of explanation that said "we'll be back for them as soon as we can get a place to live and work."

The children were identified Thursday as Thelma, 5 months, Clela, 2, Michael, 4, Gary, 6, Billy, 7, and Eugene, 8.

They were hungry and crying when neighbors discovered them. Sheriff's deputies took the children to Juvenile Hall where they were fed, bathed and clothed.

The parents, Olen Lovell, 30, and his wife, Joy, 28, asked neighbors to call the police, saying in a note, "We can't stand them to go hungry any longer, so we have decided to leave them and try to find a job so we can take care of them."

Huge Air Force Globemaster Reported Lost in Pacific Ocean

Last Heard From Early This Morning

Carried Crew Of Seven, Search Is Now Under Way

HONOLULU (UPI) — A huge Air Force C124 Globemaster enroute from the U.S. nuclear test area at Eniwetok to Hawaii was unreported today after radioing that one of its engines was "running wild" 200 miles west of Johnston Island.

A Hawaiian Sea Frontier spokesman said the plane, carrying a crew of seven, was "feared lost."

NO PASSENGERS were believed to be aboard the plane, which was based at Travis Air Force Base near San Francisco.

The Navy launched intensive air-sea search for flares. The weather was reported good, but search operations were hampered by darkness.

The plane was enroute back from the 2,400-mile cargo run to the Marshall Islands test area.

IT WAS LAST heard from at 4:20 a.m. p.d.t. The pilot reported that the No. 3 engine — right inboard — was "acting up" and attempts to feather it were unsuccessful.

The engine was running wild, the pilot said, and the plane would try to reach Johnston Island air strip, 500 miles southwest of Honolulu.

THE MILITARY Air Transport Service plane was traveling about 200 miles an hour and it would normally take an hour to reach Johnston. But no further word was heard from it.

WEATHER

Desert area forecast: Occasional light cloudiness through Saturday but mostly sunny and slightly warmer days. High temperatures today 92 to 100 upper valleys, 104 to 112 lower valleys.

Yesterday's high was 106, low 63.

Sizzling Salute to Nation's Founders to Mark Fourth

A sizzling salute to the nation's founders will light up the sky over the Polo Grounds tonight when officials touch off the biggest collection of fireworks ever assembled for the traditional Palm Springs Independence Day program.

JayCee fireworks chairman Tom Hayes said "one of the finest Fourth of July displays in the state" will be ignited at 9 p.m.

ECHOING the explosive Palm Springs salute, the community of Palm Desert will set off its pyrotechnic parade at 9:30 p.m. as a colorful highlight of its second annual Fourth of July Fair.

The Village fireworks display is sponsored by the service clubs of Palm Springs and Cathedral City and is produced by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Hayes said the entire desert area is invited to attend the show, admission free.

THE "TREMENDOUS" aerial display, Hayes said, "will be preceded at 7:45 p.m. by a special model airplane flying exhibition staged by the Wings of Palm Springs model club."

PALM DESERT opened its action-packed Fun Fair at noon today on the Shadow Mountain Club grounds. Sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, the Fair features game booths, entertainment, dancing under the stars and many other fun-filled activities, in addition to the fireworks display.

Speaks in Belgium

Hoover Assails 'Vicious' Anti-American Propaganda

BRUSSELS (UPI) — Former President Herbert Hoover said today Americans are being discouraged in their defense of the free world by the "vicious" anti-American propaganda which haunts even their friends.

Noting that abuse of the United States has led to physical attacks on U. S. citizens and officials in countries receiving U. S. help and cooperation, Hoover warned:

"FORTY YEARS AGO such attitudes contributed to the retreat of the American people behind a barbed-wire entanglement around the Western Hemisphere. I have little fear of such a retreat today. But the danger signal is up."

Hoover, 83, made his remarks in a statement prepared for delivery by him on Independence Day as a special U. S. envoy to the Brussels Exposition.

HE SAID AMERICA is a victim of "the false legends, misrepresentations and vicious propaganda which haunt the free world."

These "misrepresentations" and the "physical attacks" they have incited "discourage the American people and increase opposition to cooperation with other nations in maintaining defense and in aiding relief from poverty and want," Hoover declared.

THE FORMER President did not mention specific incidents. But his remarks recalled the recent attacks on Vice President Richard Nixon in South America, Lebanese rebel attacks on a U. S. hospital in Tripoli, and mob assaults in recent years on U. S. government buildings in the Middle East and Far East.

"We are often depicted as living under the control of wicked men who exploit our economic life through gigantic trusts and huge corporations," he said. "They are supposed to grind the faces of the poor and to exploit other nations."

BUT ALL THIS ignores that the United States has vigorous anti-trust laws and zealously guards the principles of fair and open competition, Hoover said.

"Probably the greatest misrepresentation of our ideals is that we are imperialistically-minded and that we daily practice imperialism," he said. But he pointed to the freedom attained by Cuba and the Philippines and the Monroe Doctrine, "whereby we have aided our Latin American neighbors to secure their freedom."

"MOREOVER, IN THE last forty years, invariably at the request of nations struggling against oppression or military aggression, our sons have fought and died in three great wars. They died that more freedom would come to mankind and that the world might have a lasting peace."

Not once after those wars, he said, has America asked "for an acre of territory."

But, Hoover added, "These misrepresentations and this propaganda are inciting physical attacks on American citizens, upon our officials and abuse of our country."

"They discourage the American peoples and increase opposition to cooperation with other nations in maintaining defense and in aiding relief from poverty and want."

Safety Council Issues Warning For Holiday

"Three out of every ten drivers involved in fatal accidents were violating a speed law during 1957," Palm Springs Safety Council President Don C. Miller said today.

"Your chances of being killed in an accident driving at 25 miles per hour are one in 300; at 35 miles per hour they are one in 40 and at 75 miles per hour they are one in 8," he continued. "Study these ratios and Slow Down And Live."

THE SAFETY COUNCIL issued the above warning to begin their summer campaign of "Slow Down And Live." Between the Fourth of July and Labor Day, material, leaflets, stickers, book matches and label buttons will be distributed by the local Safety Council in every effort to decrease speed accidents in Palm Springs and its surrounding communities.

This is the first major publicity campaign begun by the Council in 1937 and chairman of distribution of safety material is Marcia Esbitt.

THE SAFETY COUNCIL continued its message by stressing that safe driving is an individual responsibility of every motorist. Inattention or overconfidence produces dangerous situations that we cannot properly handle.

"Ninety per cent of all motor vehicle accidents are caused by human failure," Miller said. "That puts the responsibility for avoiding accidents squarely up to you and me. Remember, Slow Down And Live."

House Probers to Demand More Details From Goldfine

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Two House investigators said today they will demand more details from millionaire Bernard Goldfine on the Christmas checks he gave 33 government employees, including the secretary of White House aide Sherman Adams.

Reps. John B. Bennett (R-Mich.) and Peter F. Mack Jr. (D-Ill.) said they weren't satisfied with the information obtained so far about the checks, which ranged from $25 to $150 and which Goldfine described as gifts for "poor workers."

"HE WASN'T MAKING these contributions for his health," Mack said. "It appears to me he was trying to buy his way into very important positions."

Bennett said merely that he wanted to ask Goldfine if he "had any other motive other than just being a good Joe."

Bennett said if the checks were made to get an employee to have his or her boss do something for Goldfine, that was one thing. But he said he couldn't see any "bad faith standing by itself" if Goldfine were merely presenting a secretary or a stenographer a personal Christmas present.

THE SUBCOMMITTEE adjourned Thursday until Tuesday, after Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark.) ordered the names of the 33 White House and congressional employees

Wrong Party

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — (UPI) — Mrs. E.G. Geater took pictures of her two-year-old son's birthday party, then sent them off by mail to be developed. The roll of film got lost, and Mrs. Geater asked the post office to trace it. The post office reported it had an unclaimed roll that "could" be hers. Only way to tell was to develop it. The pictures were of a birthday party, but the party was for twin four-year old girls.

Gardening in the Desert

The Poinsettia is probably the most eye-catching flowering plant that adorns many local gardens from mid-November until late March.

Incidentally, our own Councilwoman Ruth Hardy, who is also the owner of sedate and secluded Ingleside Inn, merits a heap of thanks for spreading that gorgeous plant around among localities who are amateur gardeners.

FOR MANY YEARS she has donated a bundle of poinsettia cuttings to any Village inhabitant who will plant them. With the cuttings she has also given to each applicant typewritten instructions on how to handle this picturesque growth. In fact, it would be safe to say that 80 per cent of all the poinsettias grown in this vicinity are offshoots from Ingleside Inn hedge.

We sincerely hope that those acceptants of this year have followed the instructions diligently; have furnished the young plants with some shade from Old Sol's scorching rays and have been careful with watering.

OVER WATERING is inadvisable, when the green leaves show sign of wilting watering is necessary. At present we find this sign every second day and water accordingly. Later in the year, when the sun rays are considerably milder, twice a week will probably suffice.

You may be governed by your location and the quality of your soil, and please don't forget the iron sulphate. By following instructions you will be sure to have a magnificent showing of poinsettias for Christmas decorations.

About the middle of September the plants will have grown to around five feet. They should then be cut back about one third. We have found this proceeding result in stronger plant growth and a more profound showing of decorative Poinsettias.

Advice Given On Cleaning Leather Goods

AMES, Iowa (UPI) — Leather upholstered furniture and leather table top surfaces are easy to care for, but not with furniture polishes, oils or varnishes.

June Brown of the Iowa State University's extension service said these preparations frequently contain solvents that cause leather to become sticky. She recommended using pure mild soap or saddle soap to clean leather pieces. Simply dampen a cloth or sponge in warm water, wring out and rub over the part of soap or the saddle soap. Rub dry with a clean soft cloth.

It leather seems to be drying out, rub it with a small amount of leather dressing, using your fingers and palm of your hand. This advice also holds true for leather shoes, handbags, luggage and book-bindings.

Oregon Grape Is Shrub Which Has Everything

What are you looking for in a shrub? Flowers, evergreen foliage, fall color, berries, good growth habits? You can combine them all in the popular Oregon Grape, the California Association of Nurserymen report.

There are few shrubs so popular, especially among the natives. Do not be misled by the word "Oregon" since this shrub grows well in most sections of California. Although it is said to require sun in the North and shade in the South, actually it thrives in Northern shade and can be seen growing happily as a foundation plant in California's hot valleys. In full sun it will probably require more water.

The leaves of the Oregon Grape (Mahonia aquifolium) are shiny and prickly, like holly leaves. In early spring you can expect attractive clusters of acacia-colored yellow flowers. In summer the berries are dark shiny blue in contrast to light green foliage. The leaves take on reddish tones particularly in the Fall.

THIRSTY? Let's Meet At THE BILTMORE

The Desert Sun Friday, July 4, 1958 4

HERE'S AN AUTHENTIC setting for a summer game of Cowboys and Indians. Just the thing for backyard battles, the waterproof tepee is also a snug clubhouse in the winter months.

Tepee Is Headquarters For Neighborhood 'Tribe'

Cowboys and Indians can be more realistic if there is a real tepee in the back yard. Here's an idea for a tepee so easy to build the combatants can assemble it during a lull in the battle.

The wigwam stands almost eight feet tall, and has room for three or four members of the tribe inside at the same time. The joints which hold the sides together are formed with canvas strips for a strong, watertight fit.

ALL IT TAKES is three panels of exterior-type fir plywood, some canvas, staples, paint, and a few hours of spare time. Total cost should run less than $35 for all materials.

With a bright coat of paint and a few Indian designs painted on the six-pie shaped sides, the tepee will be one of the most colorful places in the neighborhood. It's also a snug, dry shelter to protect small "Indians" from the rain.

ONE OF THE joints is fastened with small hinges, instead of canvas. Thus, the screws can be removed from one side of the hinge and the tepee can be flattened for easy storage.

Two pie-shaped sides can be cut from one panel of 1/4-inch thick fir plywood. If you don't have a power saw for this, you can rent one or have your lumber dealer cut the piece for you. Be sure to specify exterior-type (waterproof) fir plywood.

THE TEPEE CAN be finished with any standard grade of exterior house paint. Paint the edges and both sides of the plywood for best results.

A free construction plan which both cowboys and Indians can follow, may be obtained by writing Douglas Fir Plywood Association in Tacoma 2, Washington.

National Safety Council Warns of 'Killer in House'

Mrs. Housewife—there's a killer in your home!

But you don't need weapons to defend yourself, the National Safety Council says. Just common sense and a lot of caution! The killer? Poisons. They lurk everywhere—in the medicine cabinet, under the kitchen sink, on dressing tables. You'll even find them on food shelves, in the workshop, and in your cleaning closet.

THESE CAMOUFLAGED killers in the home, the council points out, take more than 1,000 lives annually. They take a steady toll throughout the year—about 120 lives a month.

Most frequent victims are children five years of age or younger. But right up there as home poison victims are persons in the 25-44 and 45-64 age groups.

THE TYPES OF accidental poisoners are as varied as the containers they come in—bleach, permanent wave solution, shampoo, nail polish remover, furniture polish, art supplies, bug killers, paint removers.

Regardless of the killer, in just about every instance there's an accomplice in the crime—careless or ignorance. For example, some potential poisoners are properly labeled—but a lot aren't. Doctors aren't always sure if a product is poisonous. And some ingredients, harmless to most persons, can kill others—especially children.

IN MANY INSTANCES, the killer is an otherwise harmless object—aspirin, for example. About one out of five children treated for accidental poisoning in a recent year had swallowed aspirin, the council reports. Kerosene is a troublesome household commonplace, especially in rural areas and in the South. Old houses, too, can be booby-traps for children. Toys can be poisoned by peeling paint on window sills and frames, or by crumbling plaster. Each can cause lead poisoning.

THE WAY TO PREVENT poisoning?

1. "Education," the council says. "Parents should be made aware of the dangers lurking in their homes."

2. Stricter state and federal laws. "Ingredients should be listed on bottles or cans containing poisonous substances—even products valuable to our everyday living."

BEST WAY, THOUGH, is to prevent the poisoning, the council says. How?

By following these rules: (1) Store medicines out of the reach of children. (2) Don't put poisons near food—it's too easy to confuse the two. (3) Don't take medicine in the dark. (4) Keep poisonous substances out of soft-drink bottles, used jelly jars, or pans, for example, and (5) Have a locked poison compartment in your home.

Gardener's Checklist

1. Control mildew on tuberous begonias with a fungicide preparation available at your nursery.
2. Planning a party? Why not pick up some pots of bright blooming geraniums or pelargoniums?
3. Tuberous begonias can still be purchased at your nursery. They are truly the most exotic of all the summer flowers.
4. Cut back perennials after blooming to encourage a second show of blossoms in the fall.
5. Don't forget that house plants get hungry and thirsty too in the warm weather.

California Realtors Association Opposes Sales Tax Drop, Supports Work Law

The directors of the California Real Estate Association at their meeting on Catalina Island reviewed 18 propositions which will appear on the November state ballot and, "in the interest of protecting the rights of property owners and the general public," made recommendations for its members, emphasizing vigorous opposition to number 17 (reduction of sales tax and increase of income tax), and endorsing number 13 (right to work). It was announced by Clive Graham of Long Beach, president of the 26,000-member association.

"The official resolution of the directors stated that the loss of revenue through reduction of the state sales tax would mean an immediate curtailment of our state education programs or would cause an unjust increase in local taxation upon homes, farms, businesses and industry," said Graham.

"PERSONAL INCOME taxes paid by every citizen, whether laborer or employer, are already to the breaking point," he said. The CREA directors resolved to use the resources of the association to prevent the "disaster to every laboring man, home owner, farmer, business and industry which would result if Proposition 17 became law," the CREA president stated.

The directors also unanimously adopted the recommendation of their legislative committee giving vigorous support to the "right to work" issue. Proposition 18, according to Graham.

"IN THEIR RESOLUTION the directors stated that the essence of freedom is that each individual has the right to work for a living without being subject to the mere will of another and that private organizations should be able to gain members as does the CREA, on a voluntary, not on a compulsory, offering to members such benefits and services as will cause them to join of their own free will," Graham stated.

THE STARLITE ROOM of the Chi Chi took on a Bavarian atmosphere Wednesday evening, in the first of a series of summer-long weekly Bavarian Beer Festivals. Among the many enjoying the festivities and music of John Meloch and his original Hofbrau orchestra were, at left, dancing, Mayor and Mrs. Frank Bogert, and at right, toasting with their draught beer steins, Ed Dillon and Betty McGee. ## Bit of Bavaria Reappears At Chi Chi

A bit of Bavaria made a most auspicious reappearance in Palm Springs Wednesday night when the desert resort city's famed fun spot, the Chi Chi, brought back the Bavarian Beer Festival for a weekly summer-long stay.

Chi Chi's Starlite Room never looked more charming for its transformation into the gay atmosphere of a Munich beer hall. Red checked tablecloths were in tune with the infectious gaiety of the happy throng.

Lederhosen and tyrolean prints and hats made the well-filled room a riot of color, with authentic German food and draught beer, served by waiters, temptingly at hand. John Meloch, master of ceremonies, and his original Hofbrau orchestra, provided the magic touch of old world enchantment with his lilting Bavarian music delightfully punctuated with vocals such as only Meloch can render.

Armed with his famed self-created musical instrument, the kadidelpopper, Meloch had the Starlite Room jumping with his highly successful audience-participation funfest—free polka and Rhine-lander dance lessons to all comers.

Polka devotees form a semicircle on the dance floor and are conducted through their heel-and-toe paces by Meloch. The band leader invariably makes good his boast to teach Bavarian dancing to everybody within five minutes.

Among those who brushed up on their polka dancing were Mayor and Mrs. Frank Bogert, Peg and Norman Waters, Ed Dillon and Betty McGee, Zedie Bunker, Joan McManus, George Beebe and Arlene Cox, Wilba and Trav Rogers and daughters, Jimmie, Benard and Mrs. Joe Donovan, Louisa and Jerry Sanborn, Catherine and John Sanborn, Mrs. Ruth Blanchard, Georgia and Gus Kettmann, Elizabeth and Tom Kieley, Annette and Jack Freeman and Councilman Leonard Wolf.

Variation on Baked Alaska

Cinnamon apples a la baked Alaska should satisfy any sweet tooth.

Using tart cooking apples cut in to medium-thick wedges. Simmer until tender in red-colored sugar water, flavored with cinnamon sticks. Chill well for firmness. Just before serving, place apples in pre-baked pastry tart shells and cover with vanilla ice cream. Spread with slightly sweetened meringue.

Be sure to cover edge of tart shells so that the ice cream is sealed in and will not melt. Heat quickly in a 500 degree oven until meringue is brown (minutes only). Serve immediately.

The Desert Sun is an independent newspaper dedicated to truth, accuracy and impartiality in the news; to the progress of the desert region; to the support of that which it believes to be right and to the defeat of that which it believes to be wrong.

Major Accomplishments Have Been Recorded in Year

Looking back over the record of recent civic achievements it becomes evident that the past year has been one of outstanding accomplishments, both within the City and the outlying district.

The voting public turned in a perfect score by decisively passing three major improvements. First came the approval of several million dollars in bonds for badly needed expansion of schools and classrooms in the Palm Springs School District, work on which is now well under way. Next the entire valley heartily endorsed the formation of a Desert Junior College which is now in the important stages of organization. And, finally, the long sought sewer bond issue won a majority for a modified plan which is also in the beginning stages of the projected improvement.

Among the other municipal and community advances were the completion of a modern City Hall and office building, an attractive new home for the Chamber of Commerce, construction of an adequate and artistic new building to house the ever popular Desert Museum, and also a handsome and spacious new headquarters for the Palm Springs Boys Club, both of the latter being in their final stages of completion.

The community also deserves a great deal of credit for eventually reaching its goal in the first annual United Fund

Campaign which assured financial support to a number of local and national organizations.

The only as yet uncompleted campaign is that to provide enough funds for the erection of an Animal Shelter, but substantial progress has been made and it is to be hoped that the next several months will also see enough additional support from thoughtful and generous residents to make this much needed humane facility become an assured reality.

While the need for a large size convention hall, increase in downtown parking spaces and more paved access roads to the business district are pressing necessities, it is not too much to hope that at least a start towards their solution may be made in the not too distant future.

As shown by the brief review of community achievements outlined above, Palm Springs has enjoyed its greatest year of civic growth and progress.

A substantial foundation has been established to accomplish even greater things in the year just ahead.

While we may all take just pride in the many fine things already done, we should also be on the alert and ready to turn with a will towards providing for our other important needs of the immediate future.

A splendid start has been made, but we must keep everlastingly at it!

A Tide? Or a Theme?

WASHINGTON, D. C.—"After me, the deluge!"

Something like this reputed prophecy of King Louis the Fourteenth is being fashioned (by Democrats, of course) as an epitaph for the Eisenhower Administration.

But is it true? Will the tumblers carry GOP candidates this year to their execution? Will many stately heads roll from the guillotine? Is the country in for a one-party reign of terror as the Democrats take over in force by the elections of 1958-60?

MY OWN THEORY is that such questions are not answerable in tea leaves or opinion polls. The best of all possible test specimens is the human one. For the purposes of inquiry I have interviewed and examined candidates for the House of Representatives, the Senate and a Governorship.

Rep. Joel Brothill (R-Va.) is a dark, hefty, extroverted three-term Congressman whose Tenth District lies just across the Potomac from Washington. He arrived in office by less than 400 votes on the 1952 coattails of the President. But four years later Brothill ran ahead of the President with 56 per cent of the District vote.

BROTHILL TELLS me that this year he confidently expects to take as much as 66 per cent. He figures to score, he says, because he has fitted his efforts to the needs of his District. About half of his constituents are Federal employees. Brothill is well situated to be of help as a member of the Post Office and Civil Service Committee.

He has been a prime mover in the pay hikes and the retirement benefits of the past several years. He has helped to bring lots of money across the river to support Federally-impacted school districts. As his House seniority increases, he becomes still more able to help out the home folks as their Congressional ambassador.

IT IS HARD to believe that Brothill, or any other hard-working, productive, personable Republican Representative is directly affected by the Sherman Adams case and other losses of White House prestige. He could be beaten by a better man, but not by anything as vague as the Democratic name.

Rep. Robert Byrd (D-Va.) is candidate against Senator Chapman Revercomb (R) for the seat in the upper chamber. Bob Byrd is a compact, serious-minded lawyer-legislator with four years' service in the House of Delegates before he reached Congress.

IT HAPPENS THAT Byrd, who comes from poverty-hit coal-mining people, makes stick-out contrast with the imposing, aristocratic Revercomb. You might expect this contest to descend into low-comedy class conflict, but not so.

Bob Byrd shows no signs of demagoguery. Three terms in Congress have given him a growing distrust of ultra-liberalism. Senator Revercomb, on his part, has moved from the right wing to a position of Eisenhower moderation. Both men like to be called State Rightists; both have peeled a loving eye for West Virginia's best interests over those of world trade and similar causes.

UNDOUBTEDLY, THE sinking fortunes of Mr. Eisenhower will hurt a Senator of his own party more than it does a Representative. But Candidates Revercomb and Byrd, both men of the highest probity and demonstrated ability, are largely on their own. The Democrat is favored by the State's registration figures, and the Republican by the advantage of his incumbency.

But the fact that Revercomb has become more of a service Senator than an ideological one will help to kill off any anti-Republican curse. And the trend of Byrd toward a middle road position means that this election could be less a political contest than a personal one.

REP. JAMES P. S. Devereux (R-Md.), candidate for Governor of his State, is a canny tactician with no ideas about running for exercise or of enduring noble defeat. Earlier this year a friend remonstrated with Devereux for leaving a "safe" seat in Congress to try for a Statewide office which he might very well lose. Why pick this particular year? What about the talk of a Democratic trend? Wasn't he behaving with uncharacteristic rashness?

Jimmy Devereux's reply was that he'd made a careful study, was convinced that any national trend of anti-Republicanism did not apply to Maryland affairs, that he was meeting Democratic Candidate Millard Tawes in a man-to-man contest. This, to repeat, is the judgment of a very cagey politician.

WELL, THREE specimens of candidacy won't provide a general rule. Neither will they answer pending questions as to the post-Eisenhower deluge. But it appears that the thing which Democrats call a political tide may be something more akin to a propaganda theme.

The wild Democrats are trying to inflame their opponents with an inferiority complex which is not yet justified in fact.—Holmes Alexander.

companionship. Since those two got together he hasn't been in bed before three in the morning. He smokes and drinks and has lost his moral standing. What should we do about this?

VERY TROUBLED DEAR EVERY: You can't buy back the introduction, but you can try to talk some sense into his head. This woman is too old for him. Appeal to the woman's sense of decency (if she has any) and ask her to throw him back—he's hardly legal size.

DEAR ABBY: We have a son 19 who was a model boy up until three months ago. He was interested in sports, never drank or smoked or ran around with girls. My wife thought he should be more social so she got together with her next-door neighbor and together they arranged a date for him with this neighbor's younger sister. She was a young widow of 29 who needed

DEAR ABBY: Unfinished things seem to run in my family. My husband and I bought an unfinished home three years ago and it is still unfinished. That isn't all. His father bought an unfinished home 27 years ago and it is still unfinished because he laid in the bars drunk for 27 years. Both my husband and his father seem to have enough money to buy the most expensive fishing equipment and also the highest priced hunting guns they can find, but they never have the time or money to finish a house. Why is this?

THIS SIDE of The Sun

By Phat

Today's the day we celebrate
The Birthday of the Nation,
By heading for the highways
And that feeling of frustration...

That's the feeling you get when you think, "well, we'll get home early before the big traffic rush starts," and everybody else has the same idea so you're stuck in the slow-moving traffic. Slow-moving except for the sap who rides the shoulder to the right, kicking up dust and trying to cut in ahead of you.

AFTER MANY YEARS of people getting their fingers blown off, their eyebrows singed and nervous old ladies reduced to a state of shock, a nationwide move was started to make it a "safe and sane" holiday.

It succeeded insofar as explosives were concerned because they passed the necessary laws. Maybe some stricter laws could return safety and sanity to the highways.

BUT ENOUGH of that. We used to have casualty lists when I was a kid but we went about piling them up in a different way.

Dynamite crackers, red and white striped like a candy stick. And daring young men who thrilled the girls by hanging on to them until the last second. Sometimes they misjudged.

And went through life with the nickname, Thumbless Joe.

THEN THERE was Potassium Chlorate. Easy to buy. Fine to spread on street car rails.

Unless you were too enthusiastic.

Then it would derail the little open summer car, down on the most fervent patriotic orator and scatter huggies all over the street as 17 horses ran away.

Oh, and another type of the old-fashioned Fourth of July casualty.

That was the big strong beach Adonis who wolfed down an entire cold watermelon and then dove into the to show his aquatic prowess.

Sometimes, he didn't come up.

TIMES HAVE CHANGED but not too much. We go about getting the same results in a different way.

About the only thing I know is missing today from yesteryear is the Fourth of July orator and his "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness" or that other one, "We hold these truths to be self-evident."

We still have hot dogs, watermelon and double header baseball games.

BUT INSTEAD of a precarious perch on the running board of an open trolley car with a death grip on the hand-rail, we barrel down the highway hoping for the best.

And a lot of people who are still in one piece tomorrow will wake up with the same old-fashioned tummy-ache from that picnic dinner, garnished with ants, that their forebears had when the nation was only 132 years old instead of 182 as of today.

Anyway, it's nice to sit back today glad that I saw it all and happy to have two thumbs and eight fingers for knife and fork (and glass).

It's another Glorious Fourth.

In the Carmel Valley, just south of Monterey, Calif. Alongside, my 14-year-old child is practicing her swimming — I don't know why she swims like a porpoise.

She is very critical of my swimming. Also a little impatient. Because I ease into the pool with great cries of refrigerated anguish.

"JUST JUMP IN!" It's NOT cold once you're in. "You raise your arms too high. Reach forward like this." Such high-and-mighty talk I will not put up with. Where is respect for doddering old age these days?

"IF YOU INSIST on shouting insulting remarks at me," I said coldly—for it IS cold once you're in. I don't care what SHE says. "If you do that," I said, "I will repeat verbatim what you used to say when I took you in this very same pool when you were small. And not so long ago."

"OH, DADDY, NO! Please, Daddy! It's too deep, Daddy!" "Father! Don't you dare!"

"I will repeat it," I said firmly. "And not only that. I will repeat it loudly and within hearing of the handsome 15-year-old boy who is sitting in the deck chair!"

"Father!"

There are more ways to kill a cat than stuffing it with butter.

LIFE HAS COME full circle. We are staying at Los Laureles Lodge. Once this was the stable for the rich Muriel Vanderbilt. And how she got the horses to move out of such a fine establishment I will never know.

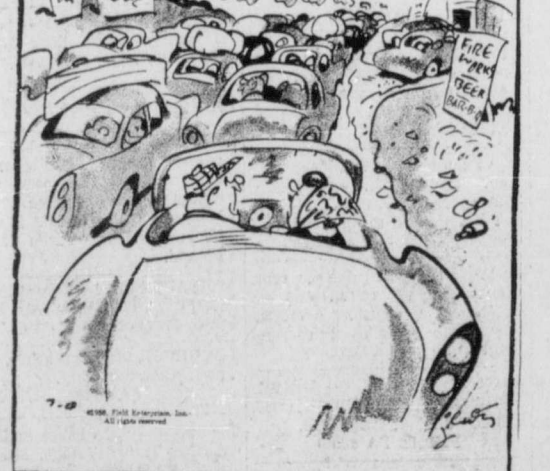

I spent my roaring teens in this area—though in those days we came to the valley for ranch dances.

The teens of this day are learning the Charleston.

WELL, BLESS YOUR dear little hearts. I was practically the Charleston champion of this valley. Kicking and cavorting to "Yes, Sir, That's My Baby!"

All of a sudden, I find myself passing on this valuable knowledge.

GRIN AND BEAR IT By LICHTY

"This IS the open road, dear! ... There're at least 15 feet between us and the car ahead!"

EARL WILSON:

The Hot News From Iceland

REYKJAVIK — Arrivederci, Jeanne Novack. "Roma; good morning, Iceland! Flying home, the Barefoot Wife and I stopped here where you have the moon at midnight and the sun at midnight, too ... where some people can't sleep due to the nighttime sunshine."

And I discovered a Wilson Girl — named Novack ... not Kim ... but Jeanne, a shapely brunette stewardess for Pan Am.

We'd said arrivederci to Italy which had been one big cocktail party. We'd driven to one at Anzio with the Marchesa Gerini, the former Polly Poli of the wealthy Connecticut theater family. And with George Seabury, the 6-foot-7 Leaning Tower of Rome who played football at Harvard in '38 and '39.

He's now rooting for the 1960 Rome Olympics which'll have baseball.

"In Naples once," he reported, "a catcher bawled out his pitcher so furiously for a bad pitch, that he didn't see the winning run steal in. That's Naples!"

"That used to be Brooklyn," I said.

"Where are you from, Jeanne?" I asked Pan Am's answer to Kim Novak.

"Forsyth, Mich.," she smiled. "It claims 200 people but I've never seen that many there. Its excuse for existence is that the Chicago and Northwestern and Lake Superior and Ishpeming RRs form a junction there."

"Where have you been on your trips?"

"Bangkok twice, Karachi, Istanbul, Beirut, and, of course, Paris and Rome and Brussels."

"Is being a stewardess a good way to get a husband?"

"Contrary to popular opinion, I think it's one of the poorest ways," she said. "Most men who fly overseas are pretty well settled down. Anyway, I've got mine picked out and I didn't meet him on a plane. He's ex-Navy."

"Do you get kidded about Kim Novak much?"

"All the time!" laughed Jeanne, a shapely brunette who attended the University of Michigan. "One pursuer announced my name as Kim Novak as a joke. The passengers started jumping up and down and saying 'Is she aboard?'"

MIKE CONNOLLY: Paddock Prattle

HOLLYWOOD — The Pier Angel-Vic Damone marriage is touch-&-go again. Trouble stems from in-law trouble—so Pier is taking off with her mother, Mrs. Enrica Pierangel to make a movie in Italy with her twin sister, Marisa Pavan. But Vic tells me he'll be joining her over there because he hasn't forgotten those till-death-do-us-part marriage vows!

Jim Dickson came home from a hospital visit to his ex-wife, Diane Varsi—smelling less of ether than a reconciliation! ... The new Mrs. Ty Power whopped up too much horsepower gunning her sports car on Beverly Drive, got a ticket for speeding, rushed off to pay it, got another.

PADDOCK PRATTLE on the "Auntie Mame" set: "A jockey friend of mine got kicked by his horse and I can't tell you where but if the jockey's head was in Santa Anita and his feet were in Hollywood Park it would be in the lobby of the Chinese Theatre!"

Rhonda Fleming phoned her estranged spouse, Dr. Lew Morrell about a book she wanted to borrow. Lew said he wouldn't be home, he'd be in Las Vegas, but would leave it on the front porch for her. Next thing I knew, there was Rhonda at the Mocambo with a new boy friend, Roman Toporow of the Max Factor makeup outfit, catching Jimmy Durante's show, both of them looking Ten Feet Tall—and as far as I know the book is still there on the front porch with morning glories twining 'round it!

WARNER BROS. gave a special screening of "The Old Man and the Sea" for Rosalind Russell, "Auntie Mame" director Morton Da Costa and myself—a brilliant picture. The "essential Hemingway" has never before been imprisoned in celluloid, even when the hand of Genius turned the cameras.

This time they've got it! Spencer Tracy's benign and endearing, spluttering and splenic Old Man, sort of a combination of Turgenev's Rudin and Proust's Bloch, shuffles and snuggles his way through the film and I think he'll win your heart as completely as he won ours.

MISS RUSSELL, incidentally, won a bet (a round of drinks for everybody) by identifying the unidentified narrator of the movie as Tracy, even though he sounds at times like his old pal Pat O'Brien narrating "Drums Under the Window!"

Dimitri Tiomkin's "Old Man" score is simply wonderful, and that fish keeps getting bigger

JOHN BROMFIELD, the Sheriff of Cochise, has been promoted to U. S. Marshal in his new series. Title, natch, is U. S. Marshal.

Mort Sahl tells me he's fed up with all those limp lines from network nabobs to the effect that they can't use the comic regularly because they're positive most audiences don't understand his topical-type humor. Sahl: "Can't understand me? Then how come I make $3,500 to $5,000 a week in the nightclubs? Are those people in the nightclubs people or AREN'T they?!"

George De Witt finally found a good five-cent cigar—and it cost only 15 cents!

WISH I'D SAID THAT: A Broadwayite says he visited a drive-in theater—and when the sound stopped, everybody looked up to see why.

Singer Sheila Reynolds did a show at a penitentiary, and reports: "It was the first time I ever performed—and the audience I was held over." ... That's earl, brother.

CHANNEL CHATTER — NBC-TV nabobs nabbed Fred Astaire, long a network holdout, for two hour-long specs next season, and these could be the Finest of '39! Fred's first telefling fronts the cameras Oct. 16.

Warner's TV is wooing Clint Walker, still on suspension, to amble back into the Cheyenne corral but Walker won't pay 'em any mind till the studio toppers agree to his demands for profit participation in the ABC-TV series ... Belinches, the ABC-TV-izers are avowing there'll be a Cheyenne series next season, Walker or no Walker—using another Western star, and brother, there are plenty of them lurking in the Hollywoods, waiting to pounce on this part!

Milton Berle's observation: "The Soviets play baseball in reverse—over there, the foul balls bat the people around!"
